Conduct organized and efficient case analysis

CaseMap® Case Analysis Software is a central repository for critical case knowledge that can be used to organize information about the key facts, documents, cast of characters, issues and case law in every matter.

CaseMap software makes it easy to analyze these case details and use them to create practical, polished work product that promotes collaboration and communication between members of the litigation team.

Manage all the information in a lawsuit:

CaseMap helps lawyers better capture and organize all of the critical details in their case and make quick connections between facts, documents, witnesses, issues and research.

What does that mean for you?

- Put all your case information in one place instead of keeping it all in your head or on a legal pad. Plus, it's as easy as typing data into Microsoft® Word.
- Use CaseMap to organize things like witness lists, the master fact chronology, the document index, document lists, transcript summaries and case issues you're trying to prove.
- Store facts and documents in CaseMap, so you don't have to search through binders and boxes every time you need them. With CaseMap they're always right there at your fingertips.
- Enter the information once and use it many different ways throughout the case.

With CaseMap it's as easy as 1-2-3 to organize, analyze and communicate critical case information.

- Cull critical passages directly from a PDF, from document management tools such as Concordance® and others, from the Quicklaw™ service, etc. Send them to CaseMap with a few clicks, so you don't even have to type them in yourself!
- Own your case! Conduct an early assessment of how strong (or weak) your case is, which seriously impresses clients when they see how organized you are. Having your case organized might even lead to a better settlement!

Perform powerful case analysis with the click of a mouse

CaseMap makes it easy to explore critical case knowledge. Clients tell us that CaseMap greatly enhances their ability to understand their cases.

What does that mean for you?

- Gain leverage at such critical events as examinations for discovery, hearings, settlement conferences, mediations and trials using the case ownership CaseMap provides.
- Sort, filter and tag CaseMap spreadsheets with a single mouse click. Print your report, send it to Word, or use the built-in PDF writer. Similar analysis can be performed on the facts, documents, cast of characters, case law and issue spreadsheets.
- Evaluate the relationships between different types of case information. For example, easily identify the facts and case law that support your position on a particular issue. Another mouse click creates an instant Summary Judgement report in your word processor.
- Dissect your Fact Chronology. A mouse click also sends facts from CaseMap to our TimeMap® tool to instantly create timeline visualizations.

Promote collaboration among trial teams

CaseMap allows everyone on the trial team to better collaborate, and helps eliminate silos where disparate information resides with different team members.

What does that mean for you?

- Utilize one central repository for important case information—one place for the team to look.
- Provide a much better understanding of the case to everyone on the team.
- Retain the information in case someone leaves the firm or happens to be on vacation. The case information doesn't leave with them.
- Bring new team members up to speed. Everything they need to know is in CaseMap—just give them a ReportBook case summary!
- Standardize the way your team works and the way you organize all your knowledge about the case with CaseMap as the Standard.
